

Surrender the Wind

Rita Gerlach

An Epic Novel of Love and Betrayal

American Revolutionary patriot Seth Braxton is torn between the land he shed his blood for and the prospect of reuniting with his sister Caroline, who was a motherless child taken to England at the onset of the war.

With no intention of staying permanently, Seth arrives in Devonshire to find his sister grieving over the death of her young son. In the midst of such tragedy, Seth meets Juleah, the daughter of an eccentric landed gentleman. Her independent spirit and gentle soul steal Seth's heart, enraging the man who once sought her hand and schemed to make Ten Width, the ancestral home of Seth's loyalist grandfather, his own.

Will Seth and Juleah's love and faith survive a sinister plot of murder, abduction, and betrayal?

Rita Gerlach has published three historical novels and is the editor of Stepping Stones Magazine, an online website focused on writing, marketing, and promotion for writers. She is a member of the American Christian Fiction Writers (ACFW) and The Western Maryland Writers Guild. Rita lives in Frederick, Maryland.
